

As a global leader in consumer dispensing systems, drug delivery systems, services and active packaging solutions for the beauty, food and pharmaceutical industries Aptar is committed to improve the quality, safety and environmental impact of its products.

We firmly believe an ethical, compliant and impact-minded culture is at the heart of our business.

We strive to anticipate the needs of the market to best serve our clients and actively engage all stakeholders in a common goal.

Martin Foe

Senior Manager
Global Regulatory Affairs,
Aptar F+B & B+H

Guillaume Brouet

Vice-President
Analytical, Regulatory and Scientific Affairs
Aptar Pharma

We accomplish this by

- Monitoring, evaluating and communicating regulatory developments in all regions in which we conduct business.
- Designing and manufacturing Aptar products and services in accordance with relevant regulations to serve the pharmaceutical, beauty, personal care, home, food and beverage markets respecting both the environment and human health.
- Proactively working with regulators and other relevant stakeholders to clarify and continuously improve the regulatory framework.
- Monitoring supply-chain partners with the expectation that they meet the same high standards of quality, sustainability, safety and regulatory requirements.
- Collaborating with suppliers, customers, competitors, industry associations, regulatory authorities and non-governmental organizations in stakeholder strategic actions and commitments.
- Using leading-edge technology to reduce environmental impacts and provide safe, quality products and services for customers and consumers.